“In Pursuit of Excellence”

As a service to our community and to make resources for children easier to access, Lewis- Palmer School District is publishing the Tri-Lakes regional

Youth Activities and Services Directory

The directory offers descriptions of activities, classes, events, information, and professional services available for youth in one easy location with interactive links to those resources.

The directory will be posted online and publicized to families of more than 5,000 students, school staff, and the community. Printed copies will also be available at schools. Directory promotion will include messages via email, school newsletters, and District website announcements. The online format will provide for frequent updates and reduce paper consumption. School District 38 policy prohibits sending materials that are not school- related home with students, so the directory will give families of students a quick and convenient way to find youth-related resources in our community.

We would like to invite your group or organization to provide contact information and a description of services to be listed in the directory free of charge for 90 days. After that, the directory will require a small annual fee for participation, which is described on the registration form. Government agencies may continue to list without charge.

Please fill out the accompanying form and mail, fax, or drop off the completed document to the Lewis-Palmer School District community relations office at your convenience.

We hope this directory will help parents and students find valuable resources, and promote the strategic vision of our school district to help children become well-rounded citizens through involvement in enrichment activities and community service.
